WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

For the week ended October 19, 1907.

Honolulu, October 21, 1907.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Toward the end of the week the winds settled to moderately strong "trade," accompanied with appreciably lower temperatures generally over the section, altho for the week the mean temperatures were higher, 5 deg. to 1.6 deg., than those of the preceding one in all districts of Hawaii, except the Kona. On the remaining islands the mean temperatures were lower than those of last week at practically all stations.

The largest amounts of rainfall occurred in the Hilo district of Hawaii, where they ranged from 5.82 to 12.77 inches. In the remaining districts of Hawaii the amounts varied from 1.78 to 4.11 inches in the Kona, Puna and Hamakua, and .32 to .96 inch in the Kohala. On Maui the amounts ranged from 1.96 to 7.00 inches in the windward districts, and trace to .77 inch in the Lahaina, Wailuku and Kula districts. In the Koolau and the northern and central portions of the Koolau districts of Oahu the amounts varied from 1.97 to 2.82 inches, .08 to .42 inch in the Honolulu and the southern Lahaina, Wailuku and Kula districts, and no rain in the Ewa and Waiānana districts. On Kauai the amounts ranged from .06 to 1.26 inches, and on Molokai from .34 to .71 inch.

At stations having a record of ten or more years the total amount was above the average for the week 3.61 to 11.43 inches in the Hilo districts of Hawaii; 1.41 to 1.45 inches in the Puna and Hamakua, and .46 inch in the Kona. In the Kohala district the changes ranged from a deficiency of .50 inch to an excess of .11 inch. On Oahu the changes varied from excesses of 1.57 to 1.63 inches in the Koolau and northern portion of the Koolau districts, and deficiencies of .18 to .31 inch over the remainder of the island. On Kauai the rainfall was .21 to .25 inch below the average.

The rainfall was less than that of the preceding week in the Kohala district of Hawaii, and greater in the remaining districts of that island—the largest increases occurring in the Hilo district, where they ranged from 4.17 to 10.85 inches. In the Hamakua district of Maui the excess amounted to 5.08 inches. In the remaining portions of the section the amount was generally slightly in excess of the preceding week's.

Excessively heavy rains occurred in portions of the Hamakua district of Hawaii on the 18th, and generally over the Hilo district on the 12th and 13th.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal islands and for the Group:

	Temperature.	Rainfall.
Hawaii.....	74.2 deg.	5.02 ins.
Maui.....	75.5 deg.	2.11 ins.
Oahu.....	77.2 deg.	1.07 ins.
Kauai.....	74.6 deg.	0.90 in.
Molokai.....	75.2 deg.	0.52 in.

Entire Group 75.3 deg. 2.98 ins.

At the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu, clear to partly cloudy weather obtained, with .03 inch of rainfall on the 16th, .27 below the normal, and .28 less than during the preceding week. The maximum temperature was 84 deg., minimum 72 deg., and mean 76.9 deg., .8 deg. above the normal, and .3 deg. lower than last week's. The mean relative humidity was 68.7 per cent, and the prevailing wind direction was NE., with an average hourly velocity of 8.9 miles. The mean barometer for the week was slightly below the normal, and the last half of the week was appreciably cooler, and pleasanter.

"UTAH APOSTASY"

President Joseph Smith of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints delivered an address last night in the church on King street to a large congregation on the subject of "The Utah Apostasy." The object of this address was to prove to the members of the church that polygamy was never taught or encouraged by the prophet, Joseph Smith, nor allowed in the church during his life time, nor ever taught by any other authority recognized by the church, and in fact is a heresy the acceptance of which has amounted to apostasy by the church in Utah. The church was organized in 1830, and in 1835 the Book of Doctrine and Covenants was published. In this book the subject of matrimony is clearly defined, and it is clearly stated that no man should have more than one wife at a time, and that the bonds of matrimony were only dissolved by the death of one of the parties. In another part of this book the church is reproached with charges of fornication and polygamy, and in refutation of these charges, the church's belief in monogamy is reiterated. The statement regarding marriage as found in the book of Doctrine and Covenants published in 1835 was found in every book until 1876, when the church in Utah published an edition with this clause stricken out. President Smith spoke of his father as he had remembered him, and his character as he had heard from his mother, had gone to prove that all the

PRESENTATION OF LECTERN AND BIBLE TO EPISCOPAL CONVENTION ADDS TO HISTORICAL NOTE

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Oct. 5.—With the Bishop of London preaching a sermon in Burton Parish church, the oldest church in point of continuous use of the Anglican communion in the United States, the services here today attending the presentation and acceptance of a lectern from President Roosevelt, and a Bible from King Edward, were of peculiar historical interest.

The convention sent to the services a deputation, consisting of one clergyman and one layman from each of the thirteen original states, together with the representatives of the diocese of Southern Virginia. A special train brought practically the entire membership of the convention. The Bishop of London and other distinguished visitors were given an ovation upon their arrival.

After prayers the lectern was presented by Bishop Satterlee, of the diocese of Washington, speaking for the president of the United States, and was received by Bishop Randolph, of the diocese of Southern Virginia. The Bible was then presented by the Bishop of London, who conveyed a message to the American church from King Edward. It was received by Presiding Bishop Tuttle. At the same time the services were being held within the church an overflow meeting was in progress in the parish churchyard, which the Bishop of London addressed upon the conclusion of his speech within the church.

An offering was taken at the morning service, which will be divided equally between some special missionary work in the diocese of the Bishop of London and the permanent endowment fund of Bruton parish church.

The bronze bas relief memorial given by the American Episcopal church in memory of the life and service of Rev. Robert Hunt, minister of the colony which landed at Jamestown on May 13, 1607, was installed in the tower of the church, and was on exhibition for the first time today.

WILL BREAK UP STRANGE CLUB

"LEGION OF STOCKINGS" IS THE LATEST FAD IN EASTERN HIGH SCHOOL.

GARDNER, Mass., October 5.—Principal Brainard, of the Gardner high school, has finally ordered that the "Legion of Stockings" be disbanded.

The "Legion of Stockings" is probably the most unique organization of students in the United States. It is composed of students of both sexes and the badge of membership consists in brilliant colored hose, the more brilliant the better standing the wearer. The boys and girls of the high school exchange stockings each morning before entering the assembly room. Great care is taken that the stockings shall be mismatched and that every one of the members shall see the effect of the blending.

So wide spread did the "Legion" become that the principal of the school was forced to take some action. As first he simply issued an order that the practice cease. But the "Legion of Stockings" was too firmly rooted to be broken up by a simple order from the principal.

Finding that exchange of stockings still continued in spite of his demand to the contrary, Principal Brainard took more stringent measures, and yesterday morning suspended twenty of the more persistent members—the leaders of the society. The matter will be called to the attention of the parents of the pupils and in this way the principal hopes to stamp out forever the "Legion."

A LONG DELAY.

A. T. Brock, who with E. H. Wodehouse, and W. R. Sims were appointed in July, 1905, to appraise the personal property of Julia Anthon Paty, yesterday filed an affidavit in the Circuit Court explaining why the report had been so long delayed. The affidavit says that first one and then another of the appraisers were away to the Coast for several months at a time, and that thus they never got together until 18 months after they had been appointed. In the meantime the property had been scattered about among the heirs and a good deal of trouble was occasioned in getting it together again. As it is subject to inheritance tax, the matter is of some importance.

Charges against his father regarding polygamy were untrue. Elder Sheehy is going to be here for some time, and will be willing to discuss the matter with anyone at any time.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.

The members of the Associated Charities met yesterday afternoon, and the report of the manager, Mrs. E. W. Jordan, was read. During the last three months 41 new applicants have applied for relief, 84 old applicants have been given relief, and 104 new ones receiving relief. Relief has been given in the following ways: Rations, clothing, meal tickets, rents, transportation, hospital and burial. Mrs. Jordan has made 71 visits. Funds to the amount of $277.55 have been disbursed. The donations for special work have been the material for dresses given by Ehlers & Co. and Jordan & Co., and $10 given by two ladies. Two children have been placed in school at the expense of the Girls' Missionary Union and two philanthropic gentlemen.

RHEUMATISM.
